

V.004
October
Week Four

Seasonal or holiday influences can offer a fun mix of hues! Take a look at this palette and consider the bright hues as take off points for decorating for Halloween. Of course, the traditional use of orange with black has now changed, with the addition of greens, purples and yellows. When this palette is reduced to tints, it becomes calm, warm and gentle and could even be used for Easter decorating! Next time you put together a holiday palette, try pulling out two or three of the hues and use them as tints or shades. Think about how we associate certain hues with holidays and celebrations and try using them in a totally different context.

Happy Halloween!

Happy Easter!

